BIG WRECK HEADLINES THE 2nd ANNUAL MOUNTAIN MAN MUSIC FESTIVAL – July 2, 2016

The Mountain Man Music Festival today announced that Big Wreck will headline the Mountain Man Music Festival, on July 2, 2016. Big Wreck joins other headliners Zeus and Limblifter to round out a star studded line-up. The full line-up is available at www.mountatinmanfestival.com

Big Wreck is the iconic rock band headed by Canadian lead vocalist Ian Thornley. It is well known for many singles including That Song, The Oaf (My Luck Is Wasted), Blown Wide Open, Albatross and many more.

The Mountain Man Music Festival is a multi-stage event featuring rock, blues, folk and country music. Festival attendees will stroll from stage to stage and enjoy continuous music all weekend long. Camping will be available at the foot of Calabogie Mountain, and the Peaks Resort will be open to visitors.

Tickets for one day, full weekend passes or weekend passes with camping are on sale now at mountainmanfestival.com. Tent and trailer/RV camping will be available as will water and electrical hookups. Tickets are 25% off, only until May 15th.
